What is Payroll Giving?

Payroll Giving is a voluntary scheme that enables employees to make donations directly from their pay to a 'donee organisation' of their choice.

The scheme is administered through Inland Revenue's PAYE tax system. If you electronically file your employer monthly schedule and deduction using Inland Revenue's ir-File, you can sign up for the scheme and make it available to your staff.

For every dollar an employee donates through Payroll Giving, they receive a third back as a tax credit in the same pay period. This means they no longer have to wait to claim tax credits at the end of the tax year.

Employer Benefits

Payroll giving is one of the most efficient, tax deductible ways for employees to contribute to a cause they are passionate about. By implementing payroll giving in your workplace, you can make a real difference to the community and to employee fulfillment. The Payroll Giving scheme;

- Is easy to set up and maintain.
- Is an extra, no cost benefit to offer your employees.
- Can help raise your business profile in the community.
- Boosts employee morale and staff team building.
- Promotes a feel good factor within your organisation and aids staff retention.

How we can help you promote Payroll Giving

We can provide you with a Payroll Giving resource kit, which you can use to promote the scheme to your staff. The kit contains:

- A3 posters to put up in your staffroom or canteen promoting the scheme.
- Employee information brochures.

Top tips to promote Payroll Giving

To make your Payroll Giving scheme a success, run regular promotions to maintain awareness and continue to recruit new employees.

- 1 Consider matching your employees' donations and, if you decide to do so, publicise this to your employees as it can be a powerful incentive.
- 2 Organise promotional days where your staff can find out more information about the scheme and can sign up then and there.
- 3 Enclose promotional material in induction packs ensuring that new staff are aware of the scheme.
- 4 If possible, use emails and the company intranet to enable staff to donate at the 'touch of a button'.
